

Board Nominee for Board of Stewards - Spring 2023

Matthew Cahill is a lifelong Disciple, growing up in First Christian Church of Pekin, IL; graduating from Eureka College; and joining National City Christian Church upon relocating to Washington, DC. He is a longtime supporter of Week of Compassion, first becoming involved with the ministry in 2011 through an Organizing for Compassion workshop and thereafter volunteering as a Compassionate Communicator. Matthew created an annual fundraising and education dinner program, Cooking for Compassion, in his home congregation to raise awareness and funds for the work of Week of Compassion.

He and his wife, Audrey, reside in Washington, DC, where he is a practicing attorney. In addition to Eureka College, he is a graduate of the Northwestern University Pritzker School of Law and Kellogg School of Management.
